

APPLICATION FOR 2022 ART021 is NOW OPEN

The 10th ART021 Shanghai Contemporary Art Fair will take place on November 10th-13th, 2022, at Shanghai Exhibition Center. After 9 years' of continuous endeavor in the art world, the ART021 has extended its influence globally and achieved diversity. It has also become one of the most vigorous, visionary and irreplaceable art fairs in Asia. The application for the 2022 ART021 Shanghai Contemporary Art Fair is now open. We are here to invite all the exhibitors, both domestically and globally, to witness the first decade of achievement with us.

With a mission of "Originating locally, serving globally", the ART021 has been shouldering its social responsibilities with an open, explorative and innovative spirit. It also has dedicated to provide an important development and communicative platform for galleries, museums, art institutions and collectors from China and the whole world. As an important member of China Shanghai International Arts Festival and one of the initiators and leaders of Shanghai International Artwork Trade Month, the ART021 will continue its art spirit of innovation as always, empowering the prosperous development of China's art industry.

The year of 2021 is a year of challenge, yet the numbers of exhibitors for the ART021 in 2021 reached a new high. The 10th ART021 will not fail expectations by attracting excellent artworks from top galleries domestically and globally. Many promising and emerging galleries will showcase excellent contemporary art pieces such as painting, sculpture, photography, video, installation and interior design, dedicating to provide very diversified art content and forms. We will also not slack on the prevention of epidemic prevention and control. Therefore, a PLATFORM unit will be launched during this year's ART021, aiming to provide a high-quality demonstration platform online for the oversea galleries and collectors who are not be able to attend this event on the site. This unit also demonstrates our proactive effort of exploring the new methods for exhibitions in the current situation.
